Scheme

æ¡œåº-çµ±

It woke up in me years ago
How this was meant to be
All of those falsehoods plain to see
They dug and hung their greedWill there be profit?
You could see if only we were blind
Lonely and sheltered, your life is free
But its still one step behindJust like me, they tried their rules on me
They tried their rules on me
They tried their rules on me, me, me
I broke those chains and fucking splitAnd so you, and so you, and so you, and so you
Pass all the fascist asses
Ignore those classes of bottleneck masses
Producing an all but awful stench
Delivering a section of all the money, stole and spentAs you start to recognize (You're in the game)
As you start to recognize
You're in the gameGrowing afflictions head to toe
This never should have been
But placing blame is cowardly
Restructure must beginWill there be profit?
You could see if only we were blind
Lonely and sheltered, your life is free
But it's still one step behindJust like me, they tried their rules on me
They tried their rules on me
They tried their rules on me, me, meAnd so you, and so you, and so you, and so you
Pass all the fascist asses
Ignore those classes of bottleneck masses
Producing an all but awful stench
Delivering a section of all the money, stole and spentAs you start to recognize
(You're in the game)
You start to recognize
You're in the gameThe game is'nt a playing board is you
Playing board is
(You)
Playing board is you
