

Swimming in Strange Waters

The Wooden Sky

By the time that we got there
It was already too late
They say death had come easy
I didn't see it that way I guess they meant you'd stopped breathing
Left behind all that pain
But I barely remember
See my life was on stage Living is
Lonely at best
Dying could
Bring me some rest
Did our best to deny it
The sun came up anyway
Tore across Turtle Island
On a highway of shame Still it came without warning
Suppose it happens with age
Somewhere she took to believing
It would just be better this way So I prayed for forgiveness
And I paid for the rest
Put a nail in his coffin
Put a knife in his chest And I remembered that phone call
How I had nothing to say
I was crossing the border
I was slipping away
Our bodies stirred these waters briefly
Danced with a certain intoxication
Before the love of life and self
Dealt with a few strange ideas
Then submitted to the instruments of Time
What can we say of this?
I occurred
I am not
Yet I occurred Let every living thing shine its light on every living thing
