

Too Real (Mix Mp3)

Black Rebel Motorcycle Club

Don't want to see what all these people see
They all seem lost with what they've found
Don't want to hear what all these people hear
It seems to tell them there's no sound
Don't want to fight who all these people fight
It's only truth that's been denied Does it feel too real
When everything you've learnt to love seems to change?

Does it feel too real

When everything you love to fear seems the same? Don't want to waste away my life savings

Too many feelings left to save

No need to talk about the other side

We learn to live our happy lives

It's so good, you see just another day

Learn to savor all the same Does it feel too real

When everything you've learnt to love seems to change?

Does it feel too real

When everything you love to fear seems the same? Do you turn out the lights so you don't have to see yourself?

Do you turn out the lights so you don't have to see yourself?

Do you turn out the lights so you don't have to see yourself? Does it feel too real

When everything you've learnt to love seems to change?

Does it feel too real

When everything you love to fear seems the same? Does it feel too real

When everything you've learnt to love seems to change?

Does it feel too real

When everything you love to fear seems the same? Does it feel too real?
