

Hurts

LANY

Please tell me why
It's easy at first
But then it all breaks (it then hits your heart)
The more you love, the more it hurts I was just fine
Before it all worked (if it didn't work)
But now that you're mine
The more I love the more it hurts Here I am again
Back to my old ways
Frozen with my thoughts
Wasting all my younger days
And I just can't decide
Should I be alone
Hate the way I am
Up every night
Glued to my phone Please tell me why
It's easy at first
But then it all breaks (it then hits your heart)
The more you love, the more it hurts I was just fine
Before it all worked (if it didn't work)
But now that you're mine
The more I love the more it hurts Honestly, it's me
I am so messed up
Making all the ones
Who care about me wanna run
The sunsets black and white
It didn't used to be
I remember when
It was pink skies, just you and me
