

The Truth Is

The Early November

One two threeThe truth is you know I'm having a moment right now

Where everything makes sense

Well I think some feeling from this sliding

Smooth guitar would shred right nowAnd all those nights I lost by thinking way too hard and long

I finally realize just by adding some deep end I feel alrightThe truth is you know we could never find a better friend to work with

You make us feel at home it would make me so happy right now to hear

Some piano being played by my oldest friendAnd all those nights I lost by thinking way too hard and long

I finally realize that I need some drums cracking and I feel fineThe truth is my love that I love you so much that it hurts, oh

And as cheesy as I sound I've been practicing

For the moment when I do, oh I doAnd all those nights I lost by thinking way too hard and long

Well I finally realize as long as I have you I'll be alrightThe truth is you know I'd be nothing without everyone, oh

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>