

Jewel Throne

Celtic Frost

Once prayed to my Gods, searching for the whistled memories
Empty eyes are staring now, to my feet a land of sorrow
I'm the king, sitting in the dark hiding from the shadows of the wind
Wafts of might, wine of fire, I was called to taste Jewel throne Silver horses brought us here, to the edge of the universe
We left the falling walls as the stars collapse began
Now I rest on the highest steps, revealed the eternal frontier
As I gaze from the jewel throne to the portal of infinity Jewel throne
