Everything I Love

Juliette Commagere

Stuck here with her arms up
She fears she's lost herself
A couple steps to walk out
It's the worst thing that she's thought
Hanging with her arms up
Appears she crawls around
No place left to fall down
The heartache hasn't stoppedShe's leaving in the morning
How it feels when you are never seen
How it feels to give up your dreamMoment comes
To unlock what's been reversed
She hates him so much
She had to let him go
Heaven, she said, what have I done
Everything I love I let goStuck here making words up
She fears she's found herself
No one left to help out
Tired of being aliveShe's leaving in the morning
How it feels when you are never seen
How it feels to give up your dreamAnd the moment comes
To unlock what's been reversed
She hates him so much
She had to let him go
Heaven, she said, what have I done
Everything I love I let goMoment comes
To unlock what's been reversed
She hates him so much
She had to let him go
Heaven, she said, what have I done
Everything I love I let goThe moment comes
To unlock what's been reversed
She hates him so much
She had to let him go
Heaven, she said, what have I done
Everything I love I let goThe moment comes
To unlock what's been reversed
She hates him so much
She had to let him go
Heaven, she said, what have I done

Everything I love I let go
