Break the Chains

Dream Evil

Locked up he's been, into his cell
They said he has to overcome his fears
Living in darkness now for so long
Sinking in sorrow and tearsWhy don't you break the chains
Break the chains
Released from the pain
It's time to break the chains
Break the chains
And live free againNow he arises back from the dead
To bring them fire, fury and pain
Trusting in steel for his revenge
That's the only wayWhy don't you break the chains
Break the chains
Released from the pain
It's time to break the chains
Break the chains
And live free againCasting the chains
Rise up in flames
Choosing your fate
Now's the time to kill the painWhy don't you break the chains
Break the chains
Released from the pain
It's time to break the chains
Break the chains
And live free again
Break the chains
Why don't you break the chains
Break the chains
Released from the pain
Break the chains
It's time to break the chains
Break the chains
