Liezah

The Coral

I had a girl, her name was Liezah, she had only one desire
To walk the cobbled streets alone, heading anywhere but home
With Crowley as her close companion, his diaries went hand in hand with
All the men that she has known, leaves their silver but keeps their goldSo lawyers, doctors please beware
Of that girl with wavy hair
For she will cut you down to size
Reveal the truth behind your disguiseLiezah, just passed by yer
Now you're standing empty handed
Liezah, can't despise her
She'll change your look, she'll have you hookedThe city sleeps as she's arriving, tongue tied and twisted was her timing
Her eyes are glazed in deep despair, those crocodile tears they don't care
Don't turn your back 'cos she'll be gone, chasing shadows in the sun
All along the dusty road, where she goes well we'll never knowAnd every time I think of Liezah
I break down and I start crying
Although she tore me apart
There's still a place for that girl in my heartLiezah, just passed by yer
Now you're standing empty handed
Liezah, can't despise her
She'll change your look, she'll have you hooked
