John Lennon

Grosse distorsion

(La la la) (La la la) Without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone
(La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone
I keep hearin'
That the end is nearin'

Every other week there's another villian
John Lennon tried to help stop the killin'
The sorry thing is that nobody listened
The city and country they divided
They pointin' their fingers
Their callin' each other liar

And it's ashame Traded on Jesus' name And since the ages of Abel and Cain Pleasure and pain Heroin and cocaine The father's insane The son is kinda strange The self-inflicted shotgun blasts in his viens. These croked politicians They ordering the killin' of Of innocent civilians They build another prison For the children to fill them (La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone (La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone (La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone (La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone (La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone (La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone (La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone

(La la la) Say without you I'd be all alone (La la la)
