

Buy The Stars

Marina & The Diamonds

You bought a star in the sky tonight
Because your life is dark and it needs some light
You named it after me, but Iâ€™m not yours to keep
Because youâ€™ll never see, that the stars are free

Oh we donâ€™t own our heavens now
We only own our hell
And if you donâ€™t know that by now
Then you donâ€™t know me that well

All my life Iâ€™ve been so lonely
All in the name of being holy
Still, youâ€™d like to think you know me
You keep buyinâ€™ stars
And you could buy up all of the stars,
But it wouldnâ€™t change who you are
Youâ€™re still living life in the dark
Itâ€™s just who you are
Itâ€™s just who you are

You bought a star in the sky tonight
And in your man-made dark
The light inside you died

Oh we donâ€™t own our heavens now
We only own our hell
And if you donâ€™t know that by now
Then you donâ€™t know me that well

All my life Iâ€™ve been so lonely
All in the name of being holy
Still, youâ€™d like to think you own me
You keep buyinâ€™ stars
And you could buy up all of the stars,
But it wouldnâ€™t change who you are
Youâ€™re still living life in the dark
Itâ€™s just who you are
Itâ€™s just who you are

You know only how to own me

You know only how to own me

You're buying stars to shut out the light
We come alone and then we die
And no matter how hard you try
I'll always belong in the sky

And you could buy up all of the stars,
But it wouldn't change who you are.
You're still living life in the dark
It's just who you are
It's just who you are
It's who you are
It's who you are
It's who you are
It's who you are
It's who you are
It's who you are
It's who you are
