Some People

Cliff Richard

Some people, they tease one another

Take pride in themselves

Keeping the other one down

Well, I'm not like that at allSome people, they hurt one another

They love to see

Hurt in the other one's eyes

Well, I'm not like that at allSome people are born for each other

They love to walk

Holding the other one's hand

They always understandSome people cry, some people know why, ohh

Some people, they use one another so aimlessly

Not like lovers do

Well, I'm not like that at allSome people, they long for each other

They love to talk

Holding the other one's hand

They always understandSome people cry, some people know why

With a word unspoken, with a voice unheard

When a thought is broken by a tender word

When a heart is moved, when a heart is thrown

The silence tells you you're not aloneSome people are born for each other

They love to walk

Holding the other one's hand

They always understandSome people cry, some people know why, some people

(Some people are born for each other)

They love to walk holding the other one

(Some people they long for each other)

They love to talk holding the other one(Some people are born for each other)

They love to walk holding the other one

Holding the other one

Holding each other
