The Perpetual Knot

Elvenking

And this journey begins
With the beat of wings of lark
Her wake ravishing, sky-forged spark
Gold-leaves are falling, all beasts are Howling, the signs are clearThe forces are near
The crows say that someone will die
Embraces and fear, they tell no lies
Searching for new roads, sacrifice your Blood, the signs are clearEyes in the darkness
They watch, they follow you
The spirits guide your soul
All through the cluesEyes in the darkness
Now hear the sisters' voice
You are free to choose your fate
Now make your choiceThrough the seven seas our quest goes
Pale moon our guide
Walking the trails of the perpetual knot
Roughly carved tree-trunks are shining in fading lights
May you read the meanings, it's your lotThe journey comes to an end
The lark plunged with sun into sea
All you love and defend belongs to you and me
Pagan traditions of forgotten missions, the signs are clearEyes in the darkness
They watch, they follow you
The Spirits guide your soul
All through the cluesEyes in the darkness
Now hear the sisters' voice
You are free to choose your fate
Now make your choiceThrough the seven seas our quest goes
Pale moon our guide
Walking the trails of the perpetual knot
Roughly carved tree-trunks are shining in fading lights
May you read the meaningsThrough the seven seas our quest goes
Pale moon our guide
Walking the trails of the perpetual knot
Search for the fibers, the dwelling light net of Wyrd
Roaming souls on branch of mother earth
