Midwest Island

So They Say

Whenever I try it feels like, the day is burning away
Peeling back my skin wanting to give in Wanting to take this road straight back to nowhere agaimDid you ever know I waited my whole life
Will you help my burn these street signs?
Waiting for a sunny Summer dayDid you ever know I held it all inside
It's pointless acting like you could understand
I'm doing the best I can to not give inOn this midwest island is a shipwreck
Where the walls have closed us in
Feeling like I can't wait to drive away from here
