

Someday

Joy Enriquez

Baby, baby, baby I love you
That's why it doesn't make sense to me
Baby, baby, baby I adore you
That's all that really matters to me So go ahead and walk out that door
Just know before you start, you'll be back for more Someday we will be together
Someday you'll open your heart
Might not know now but the day's gonna come
You'll be running back to my arms Baby, baby, baby I know you
Better than I know myself
Baby, baby, baby I know you
Can't be in love with somebody else There's no turning back with your pride
But you'll be coming back in a matter of time, oh baby Someday we will be together
Someday you'll open your heart
Might not know now but the day's gonna come
You'll be running back to my arms And I'll be kicking with my boyfriend
Making plans and conversation, chillin' on the weekend
What a perfect combination
Might not know now but the day's gonna come
You'll be running back to my arms It's gonna be hard for me but I can't lie
I know that you still care for me, you still love me
And baby that's what keeps me
Strong, strong, strong, oh baby Someday we will be together
Someday you'll open your heart
Might not know now but the day's gonna come
You'll be running back to my arms And I'll be kicking with my boyfriend
Making plans and conversation, chillin' on the weekend
What a perfect combination
Might not know now but the day's gonna come
You'll be running back to my arms Someday we will be together
Someday you'll open your heart
Might not know now but the day's gonna come
You'll be running back to my arms
