

Trouble Again (feat. Aaron Neville)

Linda Ronstadt

written by Karla Bonoff

© 1979 Seagrape Music (BMI) Well I wake up in the night now

And don't you know I think of you

It's the fire in your eyes

That keeps on cutting through

There's nowhere I can run to

Can't seem to lose the thought of you

I never really was a bad girl

But you got me in trouble again Well I used to walk the straight line

I knew what I was doing all the time

There was nothing left to move me

I always held my ground

But you got me where you want me

And now you're always here to haunt me

I never really was a bad girl

But you got me in trouble again I still remember how it felt when you put your arms around me

But if I thought you could love me, I was blind But you got me where you want me

And now you're always here to haunt me

I never really was a bad girl

But you got me in trouble again Well you'd think I would've learned by now

And I'd keep away from you somehow

Just like a little child

I keep coming back for more

But baby when you come today

Don't you know that I'll come out and play

I never really was a bad girl

But you got me in trouble again

I never really was a bad girl

But you got me in trouble again

Woah I never really was a bad girl

But you got me in trouble again

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>