Million Miles

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I'm far away and I'm feeling alone
I've got one week behind me, just six more to go
If i could see you I'd take off your clothes
And we'd lie in the garden and watch the weeds growThe grass is so high
I can't see over
And the moon is so full
It's setting the stars all on fire
If they build the dam
Any higher
Their gonna back up the crick and
Set this whole place under water
The city is a million miles away
The city is a million miles awayI lie Awake and think of you
The floods and fires might be coming through
But you would know just what to do
Yeah, you would know just what to doI lie Awake and think of you
The floods and fires might be coming through
But you would know just what to do
Yeah, you would know just what to do
