Inside My World

Ramin Karimloo

I, I came here, with one suitcase and no idea
I had no road map, and no father to give me that
But that's okay, I found me
A life, sweet air to breatheBut inside my world
The storm still brings the rain
And I still cause you pain, my love
And inside my world
This heart is still in flames,
And I'm trying hard to change, so much!
Inside my world
Will that be enough?I, I think that we should take some time, but on our own
Cause I have no blueprints, and no answers, just chances blown
But that's okay, I'll find you somewhere we can breatheBut inside my world
The storms still bring the rain
And I still cause you pain, my love
And inside my world
This heart is still in flames
And I'm trying hard to change, so much!
But inside my world
Will that be enough?I can't stop from feeling, I can see a stranger kneeling
When I look into the mirror now
He's trying to find the meaning and how to confess
Now he's praying for forgivenessInside my world
The storms still bring the rain
And I still cause you pain, my love
And Inside my world
This heart is still in flames
And I'm trying hard to change, so much!
Inside my world
Will that be enough?I, I came here with one suitcase and no idea
