Yael Borger

You are my best befriend, you are my other half
You my only savior, you saved me from myself
I know you for so long, I always put my trust in you
Your hands make feel so strong, but now Iâ€™m alone again.

I could watch you for hours, and thought of you both day and night
And, every path I walk on, you are my guide.
Time after time you pick me up when I fell, you helped me recover
Time after time you were always with me.

But, after all those years, things are going nowhere
Maybe, maybe if I stop to cheat then, everything would fit.

Lately, Iâ€™m feeling quite distant, I feel like you are poison to me
And, maybe one step back, is all that I need.
Time after time Iâ€™ve been told that Iâ€™m lying and you
Are always against me,
Time after time Iâ€™ve been told that you lying to me.

Because, after all those years, things are going nowhere
Maybe, maybe if I stop to cheat,
Then everything would fit.

Because, after all those years, things are going nowhere
Maybe, maybe I stop to cheat
Then, everything would fit.

You are my best befriend, you are my other half
You my only savior you saved me from myself
I know you for so long, I always put my trust in you
Your hands make feel so strong, but now Iâ€™m alone again
