Can't Go On

Evans Blue

You haven't answered my concerns and questions why
You left me standing here speechless with butterflies
Is this the end of you? Is life beginning soon?
Have we begun to fake the day-to-day, 'I love you's'?
So let's be satisfied without the hate inside
Just walk away from the pain but still leave with pride
I won't be heeding you, I don't believe you do
So lead the way to the door and I'll follow through
I can't go on forgetting what I'm made of
I am so numb, you held me down for so long
Despite the criticize, the pain in my eyes
If you escape the blame, the feeling, the shame that kept you mine
I'm done believing you in spite of swearing to
I'm over analyzing every little thing you do
Make no mistake this time, I've never felt so right
I've never been the one disguising how I feel inside
So, let me ask of you, please put away the attitude

And I'll be the one to follow through without any fucking help from you
'Cause I can't go on forgetting what I'm made of
I am so numb, you held me down for so long
How long am I willing to go on
Faking this life's what I want?
I can't go on feeling so numb
Wasting my time with someone
I can't go on forgetting what I'm made of
I am so numb, you held me down for so long
How long am I willing to go on
Faking this life's what I want?
I can't go on feeling so numb
Wasting my time with someone
I can't go on, I am so numb
You've held me down for so long
