

Home Groan

Magna Carta

Out from the town where the air is clean and the birds sing a sweet song all day long and the water don't hide any fluoride from a country boy with his eyes on heaven coming into town just to broaden his mind I'm dis-illusioned, deafened by the tube train longing for a little bit of autumn sand long hair blowing threadbare collar showing on the touch line thinking of my baby walking in the sun with another man Hey baby I'm your loving man hey baby gonna' ask the taxman if it's all right man, daddy can I go out tonight I'm easy goin', straight up lookin' no dice throwin', all time growin' good clean livin', homegrown country man I'm going home now, can't find a milk-cow in Hampstead, any old time of day not much lookin', but I like what's cookin' when you open up your oven door and say daddy can I go out tonight
daddy can I go out tonight
gonna' ask the taxman, if it's all right man daddy can I go out tonight
I'm easy goin', straight up lookin'
no dice throwin', all time growin'
good clean livin', homegrown country man

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>