

Money Mile

Alison Moyet

Into your car park drive obsolete motors
With petrol consumption at too higher price
Sell us through windows at back room board meetings
Blindfolded and handcuffed and in single file On your money mile, we are the faceless, the nameless, the homeless

On your money mile, there in your fortress where you couldn't care less
On your money mile, we are the caseless, the raceless, the hopeless
On your money mile, you were caught in the crossfire
Hauling the flag right down, hauling the flag right down Send us to battle, send us to the front line
Point us at the enemy, lest we forget
It's for our protection that we lay here slaughtered
It's for our survival we bury our dead On your money mile, we are the faceless, the nameless, the homeless

On your money mile, there in your fortress where you couldn't care less
On your money mile, we are the caseless, the raceless, the hopeless
On your money mile, you were caught in the crossfire
Hauling the flag right down, hauling the flag right down On your money mile
On your money mile
On your money mile
On your money mile On your money mile
On your money
