

Two to Tango

Carla Torgerson

She was only seventeen when she walked into my life
She had head filled with dreams and she wanted to strive
    She wasn't afraid to say
    Or do the things to get what she wanted
And she could use and seduce a man with just one hand
    It was all or nothing, that was her plan
    She wanted to be free and to have it all
    She didn't want to fall, fall in love with me
    Then she had to see, she had to let it go
    'Cause it takes only two to tango
She was only seventeen when I gave her my heart
She would look into my eyes and tell me lies
She knew what she wanted from the start
    Yo la quer
