

I Saw It On Your Keyboard

Hellogoodbye

There exists a melody
That just might change your mind
Oh, if only I knew the key
To sing to make you mine And then I saw it on your keyboard
And you saw it on my sleeve
I never knew a heart existed
Outside of make believe Until I read it on your keyboard
I knew at least
That I might have a chance
To catch a shooting star There exists a star above
That always steals my stare
And there exists a star on stage
That never seems to care And then I saw it on your keyboard
And you saw it in my eyes
I didn't mean to scare you
You just seem really nice And then I read it on your keyboard
I knew at least
That I might have a chance
To catch a shooting star There exists a melody
That just might change your mind
Oh, if only I knew the key
To sing to make you mine
