

Your Biscuits Are Big Enough for Me

Bo Carter

Baby don't put no more baking powder in you bread you see

'Cause your biscuits is plenty tall enough for me

Baby I don't want no more sugar in your jellyroll you see

'Cause your jellyroll is plenty sweet enough for me

Some men like lunchmeat

And some they likes (old tongue)

Some men don't care for biscuits

They likes a dog gone big fat bun

Baby don't put no more baking powder in you bread you see

'Cause your two biscuits is plenty big enough for me

I don't want no more baking powders in you bread you see

'Cause your biscuits is plenty tall enough for me

Baby don't put no more sugar in your jellyroll you see

'Cause your jellyroll is plenty sweet enough for me

Some men you know they're straight

Some crooked as a barrel of snakes

Some men don't like bun and biscuits

They like the dog gone flat batter cakes

Baby don't put no more baking powder in you bread you see

'Cause your biscuits is plenty tall enough for me
