Regret

St. Vincent

Morning pry the windows open
Let in what's so terrifying
Summer is as faded as a lone cicada call
Memories so bright I gotta squint just to recall
Regret the words I've bitten
More than the ones I ever saidWho's the one animal
All by yourself, all of us
All of us
All of usWho's the one animal
All by yourself, all of us
Who's the one animal
All by yourself, all of usI'm afraid of heaven because I can't stand the heights
I'm afraid of you because I can't be left behindOh well, there's a red moon rising
The door slammed and it felt like a cannonballWho's the one animal
All by yourself, all of us
Who's the one animal
All by yourself, all of us
All of us
All of us
