12 Stones

Step back inside the lie again
You'll find you're wearing thin
Killing the sympathy as you take another
Swing at me now Fighting your inner self again
Losing to what you feel
Shielded behind the lies that make you
Feel real now It's over and I don't feel a thing
But you're trying to break the scar again
Your spirit is bleeding as you grin
But your bridge keeps on burning at both ends In your mind, the ending seems
To be so far from what you need
Take back the memories as you smile
To hide the pain from me now Shut down the curiosity
That brings you here again
No sense of purity as you try to take the life
From me now Nothing that you ever say
Could ever possibly erase
All the hateful things you did and now I'm Through with you nothing you could ever say Nothing you could ever say
Hope you're happy now
