

Holding Up

Jabberwocky

I know we're daring, but are we strong enough?
Already kings because we simply faced the worst.
I know your anger and all the stuff I miss,
So it's not the time I guess for giving up now.
Inside we're cold, I mean, colder than ice,
Oh, but your haze, I swear, we already faced the worst.
You're all I need, that's why I pray for us,
There's no better time to stay for holding up now. Open wide your eyes, and let me blow your mind,
It's not time for giving up,
We aren't giving up our paradise, are we strong enough?
I hold on for you and I, I hold on for you and I. I know we're daring, but are we strong enough?
Already kings because we simply faced the worst.
Will you forget the screams and the silence?
So it's not the time I guess for giving up now.
You want the greatest, you run after the most, what are you?
Expect no more, we already faced the worst.
It wasn't easy, that's why I step for us,
There's no better time I guess for holding up now.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>