

I Follow My Heart

Velojet

Shelter me when I am coming home, cause there is so much on my mind.
Sometimes i'm getting sick of being in between the evil and divine.
And if I fall asleep then wake me up unless my dreams are gone away, and even if I say i'm feeling lost today it doesn't mean I've lost my way. I follow my heart, I'm tearing apart
I keep on pretending
that it's right
I shelter my way
I want you to say
please keep on pretending that it's right I'm sorry for the things I left undone I need a room for something new now I can hardly wait to let somebody in and after all I hope it's you I follow my heart, I'm tearing apart
I keep on pretending
that it's right
I shelter my way
I want you to say
that it's right
