

Subconscious

LTR

Dying is not scary.

It's almost like we've been preparing for it, our whole lives.

But it was very sad. I didn't want to go; I love my life. And that sadness really framed in one thought, which is,
I only wish for one thing.

And I regretted the time I wasted in things that did not matter, with people that mattered.

I'm no longer trying to be right.

I choose to be happy.
