Still

Ana Johnsson

Seven years since we first fell in love
Seven years since my heart came undone
Oh, the memory still makes me warm
'Cause I love you stillAnd I will learn to go on I'll smile when I'm expected to, I know I will Yeah, I will learn to move on
But I love you stillSo they say that all wounds heal with time
Then how come time is not healing mine
It's like you locked yourself into my mind
And I love you stillHow I wish I could go back
I'd never let us make the same mistakes again
How I wish I'd take you back
'Cause I love you stillBeen counting endless nights and days
You're hundred thousand miles away
But I feel you, I feel you
And what I feel will never changeAll tomorrows fall on yesterday
'Cause I love you still
Yet I love you, love you stillI'm pretending to be strong
I'm fooling myself everyday, saying I'm OK
When there's nothing left, I will hold on
I will love you still
I will love you still
