Valentine

Nils Lofgren

Today I'm thinkin' about the world we live in
All the love and hate that's floatin' around
All the times I felt so lost and helpless
You stood by me, you never let me downStill I keep throwin' up these walls
Most of them I've built with stones
You tear 'em down and bridge the distance
Knowin' we ain't here to be aloneSo let your blue heart open wide
Let's never leave our dreams behind
It would comfort and restore my pride
If you let me be your valentineOur differences are part of life
Still love will pass the test of time
I want you everyday and night
Girl, won't you be my valentine?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/