The Submarines

The year is one thousand nine hundred and forty
And something isn't rightSomething's wrong when you regret
Things that haven't happened yet
But it's a glorious day when morning comes
Without that feeling of alarmSo rise and shine
Now's the time to be alive
To stay awake with me a whileSo rise and shine
Now's the time to be alive
To stay awake awith me a while
And smile...You couldn't sleep for the awful fright
That kept you up in bed last night
While curious shapes shift in the dark
They vanish with the sunlight sparkSo rise and shine
Now's the time to be alive
To stay awake with me a whileSo rise and shine
Now's the time to be alive
To stay awake with me a while
And smile...So rise and shine
Now's the time to be alive
To stay awake with me a whileSo rise and shine
Now's the time to be alive
To stay awake with me a while
And smile...(Something's wrong...)
