They Always Come Back

Arnej

He's jumped on the one-way track
And there ain't no coming backShould have thought before you left
Now you're on a crusade to avoid your death
The second time through you've gotta go feet first
Just remember to hold your breathThey always come back
They always come back
They always come back
They always come backAfter the storm you'd better hold on tight
Because you never know when you'll have to fight
Get on the good foot and stay in check
Because in the end they always come backThey always come back
They always come back
They always come back
They always come backThey always come back
They always come back
They always come backHe's jumped on the one-way track
And there ain't no coming back
Should have thought before you left
Because in the end they always come backThey always come back
They always come back
They always come back
They always come backThey always come back
They always come back
They always come backThey always come back
They always come back
They always come back
