

Arianna

Del Barber

Arianna was picking up the pieces
Just trying to see this night through
Grey mine dust, sunset rust
The colours of her moodShe sweeps up the broken bottles
Mops the stains from off the floor
She swears to the stars
And the grave of her mommaShe can't do this anymore
Darling let me take you out tonight
Come dance with me one more time
I know you're tired of going around the troubleThere'd be no town without the company
There's be no work without the iron ore
There'd be no job for her daddy
Or his daddy beforeBut it ain't enough to force a feeling
To bring change across her eyes
Arianna is bound for glory
This town's just bound for the fireDarling let me take you out tonight
Dance with me one more time
I know you're tired of going around the trouble
