

Trailblazers

HammerFall

It's been a long way but now we are near
The midst of the fiery rain
We know the Thunder have summoned us all
To the place where innocence got slain Behold the omens, the rivers run red
The autumn winds carry the dead
The final warning, the very last command
Shattered remains for the damned We won't surrender
No never, we will carry on From the Lake of Fire they have come
Fierce almighty legions, one by one
When the Flames of Glory touch the sky
Trailblazers do or die We are the mighty, who soar through the air,
Creating our own destiny
Warriors once and Warriors to be
Forever our spirits fly free We rode on lightning we shone like the sun
In a thunderous symphony
We fought them hard we fought them so brave,
Sending them back to their grave The Hammer has fallen
The fire still burns in our hearts From the Lake of Fire they have come
Fierce almighty legions, one by one
When the Flames of Glory touch the sky
Trailblazers do or die The visions we gazed upon,
As the nightmare returned
On the uncaring slopes
The mark of the shadows still burns
