Of All The Things

Marine Time Keepers

Of all the things I've ever done
Finding you will prove to be the most important one
I would never trade the tears, the conversations no one hears
The learning how to walk before we've runOf all the kites I ever flew
Most came tumbling down, except the one I sent up with you
I don't wanna change a thing, break the spell, cut the string
When every wish I made is coming true with youSometimes I forget
To say how much I love you
Purposely I bet
'Cause I'm so busy thinking of youSo, in this world of odds and ends, I'd rather have a part of you
Than all of my so called friends
You've taught me how to feel, what is false, what is real
Of all the things I ever wanna do, I think I'll start and end with loving youOh, you have taught me how to feel, what is false and what is real
Of all the things I ever wanna do, I think I'll start and end with loving you
