

Cloud Shadow on the Mountain

Wolf Parade

I was asleep in a hammock.
I was dreaming that I was a web.
I was a dream-catcher hanging in the window of a minivan Parked by the water's edge. I'd say that I was all alone.
I'd say that I was all alone.
I'd say that I was all alone. But I will never be born as a scorpion. And you're gonna be OK come morning,
Find your legs and find your horns
Everybody gotta be reborn but I'll never be born as a scorpion Everybody gotta be reborn but I'll never be born as a scorpion. And you're gonna be OK come morning Find your legs and find your horns
'Cause you're not just another pair of boat shoes walking away from the harbor. Cloud shadow on the mountain Cloud shadow on the plains Cloud shadow making island nation on the fabric of this terrain. You gotta jump, jump over the island like a gazelle.
You gotta jump over the the island like a new long legged gazelle. But you will never be born as a scorpion.
But you will never be born as a scorpion. Just another pair of boat shoes walking away from the harbor.
Just another pair of boat shoes walking away from the harbor. And you're gonna be OK come morning, Find your legs and find your horns
Everybody gotta be reborn, but you will never be born as a scorpion. Everybody gotta, gotta be reborn,
But you will never be born as a scorpion.

Songwriters

DANTE DECARO, ARLEN THOMPSON, SPENCER KYLE KRUG, DAN BOECKNER Published by Lyrics © THIRD SIDE MUSIC INC. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>