

Count Me In

Little River Band

When it's time for the final act to begin, call me
When you find your patience wearing too thin
There's a path that leads you straight to their door
I know if you believe, in time we'll even the score I've walked that mile before, yes, I'd like to join your fight
Pull your ranks in tight and count me in
Every move feels right tonight
Darkness turns to light so count me in Take your place, let them know you've arrived
Go now, play your ace, show them how to survive
They held you back, nailed you down to the floor
Slowly, you've got the brass ring, now you'll even the score I've walked that mile before, yes, I'd like to join your fight
Pull your ranks in tight and count me in
Every move feels right tonight
Darkness turns to light so count me in You're home free
You beat them at their own game
So now they'll let you be
But they know their loss is your gain I've walked that mile before, yes, I'd like to join your fight
Pull your ranks in tight and count me in
Every move feels right tonight
Darkness turns to light so count me in Yes, I'd like to join your fight
Pull your ranks in tight and count me in
Every move feels right tonight
Darkness turns to light so count me in
