

I Know You're There

Matthew West

Well, I think I'm over thinking this whole thing
About believing in something I cannot see
'Cause when I think about it
I think there's no doubt about it
I do it every single day
Well, it's just like the air
No one knows where it comes or where it goes
But when I breathe in I believe again and again
So if the whole wide world says You're not there
Well, I still know You're there
And even if they call me crazy
I don't care, I still know You're there
And if they say there's no such thing
As Heaven or a God who waits for me
I just point to the air
And I know You're there, yeah, yeah
And I know You're there, yeah, yeah
Well, I had a science teacher
Who tried to make me a believer
That evolution made this earth
But I can't give a big bang credit for this whole thing
Life is too beautiful for that to be true
Well, it's just like a child, a new born baby
There were no two, the same tiny toes, finger prints
And with that thought I rest my case
So if the whole wide world says You're not there
Well, I still know You're there
And even if they call me crazy
I don't care, I still know You're there
And if they say there's no such thing
As Heaven or a God who waits for me
Well, I just point to the air
And I know You're there, yeah, yeah
And I know You're there, yeah, yeah
When a nation cries, when a loved one dies
When we wonder why, I still know You're there
When the nights are long in a world gone wrong
There's still a feeling so strong that tells me You're there
You're so undeniable

You're so unconfidable
And your love is so reliable
It tells me You're there
So, if the whole wide world says You're not there
Well, I still know You're there
Let them all call me crazy
I don't care, I still know You're there
And if they say there's no such thing
As Heaven or a God who waits for me
Well, I just point to the air
You know that I just point to the air
And I know You're there, yeah, yeah
And I know You're there, yeah, yeah
I know You're there, yeah, yeah
See I know You're there, yeah, yeah
I know You're there
If you wanna make history
You gotta stand right up for what you believe
If you wanna make history
You gotta stand right up for what you believe
If you wanna make history
You gotta stand right up for what you believe
If you wanna make history
You gotta stand right up for what you believe
And I believe, I believe, I believe You're there
Yes, I believe, I believe, I believe You're there, yeah, yeah

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>