

Forget Me Knot

Serj Tankian

Don't forget me now, laughing through the tears
For somewhere, somehow,
life becomes the years
You speak to millions,
but you're talking to no one Home is the place that you can't walk away from You seek our opinions but listen to no one Throw up your hands and tell that it's all done
We intend to rise through motion,
speak through silence
And fight 'til the ocean
No more glimmering
hopes or commotions
Our dedications to
each other and devotions
No pretending now,
Your heart is open and you reappear
For somewhere, somehow,
you drop the fall
And you ran with fear
You speak to millions,
but talk to no one Home is the place
You seek opinions but listen to no one Throw up your hands and tell me that it's all done
We intend to rise through motion,
speak through silence

No more glimmering hopes or commotions
Our dedications to
each other and devotions
We intend to speak through peace

Cross the ocean and
wake up in the east
Make Jerusalem home for all creeds Unsheathe your swords
and take the eagle's peace
I want you, I need you
I pray that God absolves you
Can't live this life without you
I've cleared the coffin for two
Come, today is another day Come, your hairs are no longer grey Come, we're clearing the runway There's no turning back from the path for the chosen ones
We intend to rise through motion,
We intend to scream through peace
Make Jerusalem home for all the creeds
