

Freaks Of Nature

Kansas

Freak of nature, fact or fright
Puts up with pain, puts up with spite
Scarred up shoes have lost their sheen
It looks like better days they've seen
Chameleon man, naive tycoon
Eat the poor with silver spoon
He'll jest and jeer through looking glass
But nest right near the upper class
Who'll be the first one pointing at the simple man?
Now I know I'm only lucky
Every freak of nature should know
How to run the whole freakin' show
Freak of nature'd rather be no less a man than you or me
He'd rather look the other way, choose to fight another day
I take things for granted, turn the tables 'round
What if I was down?
Every freak of nature should know
How to run the whole freakin' show
To much goin' on, runnin' out of time
I don't understand it
To much goin' on, runnin' out of time
I don't understand it
Every freak of nature should know
How to run the whole freakin' show
Every freak of nature should know
