

Think With Your Heart

Marie Osmond

When it comes to love, darling
You can't stray far away
Don't let temptation steal your heart
Love's not a game to play You think that you can have it all
But baby, that's not true
You'll wake up with the heartache
In a world that's painted blue When it comes to love
You can't think with your eyes
You can't think with your lips or hands
You can't think with your mind When it comes to love
You leave the world behind
You can't be worried about what others say
No, you can't think with your mind Think with your heart
Think with your heart, sweet darling
Think with your heart
Think with your heart, sweet baby Thinking with your eyes
Gets you into trouble every time
You'll never satisfy your appetite You think that you'll be happy
If you leave my love behind
But it won't be long
Before you change your mind When it comes to love
You can't think with your eyes
You can't think with your lips and hands
You can't think with your mind When it comes to love
You leave the world behind
You can't be worried about what others say
No, you can't think with your eyes You think with your heart
Think with your heart, sweet darling
You think with your heart
Think with your heart, sweet baby Pain has no memory
The pleasure you can't forget
Once it gets inside your mind Temptation takes control
And steals your heart and soul
Once you're thinking with your eyes Think with your heart
Think with your heart, sweet darling
Think with your heart
Think with your heart, sweet baby Think with your heart
Think with your heart, sweet darling
Think with your heart

Think with your heart, sweet baby
