

Need Another Way

Danny Tieger

Lying here with eyes unblinking
Neither's saying what we're thinking
Cause stollen words has never been my crime
While great sages through the ages
Found new ways on scrolls and pages
Expressing their pressing emotions cross oceans and time
Why am I tongue tied

Ah It's magic and mysterious
Ah It's scary and it's serious
Ah It's deep and i'm delirious
But I can't find the words for this (to use)
I need another way to say I love you
I need another way to say I love you
3 little words are not enough
There must be something else, I can think of
I need another way to say I love you

At times I have been careless
When girls wanted me to share this
I promise the world and give away my heart
But given hearts get broken
Which may explain for my slowpoken
We'll set a pace to win any race just as soon as we say start
But the same old words we've used before, don't mean enough for us no more

Ah. It's magic and mysterious
Ah. It's scary and it's serious
Ah. It's deep and i'm delirious
But I can't find the words for this (to use)
I need another way to say I love you
I need another way to say I love you
3 little words are not enough
There must be something else, I can think of
I need another way to say I love you
I love
Falling for you every single morning
I love
The face you make when my stories are boring

Our big old fights and the making up
I love
The way that we make love
I said, the way the we make love
