I'm a Rider (Finally Home)

Blue Sky Riders

On the radio, there's a song that's playing I swear I wrote
And every single wording rings true.
On and on I go, just four worn tires on an open road
And a new song every mile or two
Yeah it's just what I do.Chorus:
I'm a rider, across the great unknown
That horizon, don't need to get no closer
Let the wheels keep rolling, 'cause wherever I go
Cross the blue, cross the sky,
I know I.. I'm finally home.Back when I was young
I thought my life was a race to be won
So I ran and I ran like a man with his eye on the prize.
I was all about the next best thing till I figured it out
Now I know, I don't have to arrive to be satisfiedChorus:
I'm a rider, across the great unknown
That horizon, don't need to get no closer
Let the wheels keep rolling, 'cause wherever I go
Cross the blue, cross the sky,
I know I.. I'm finally home.If life is a highway I broke down somewhere
Between everything's here that I should have been there
After all these years I can finally see
Smack dab in the middle's maybe not such a bad place to be, not for me.[2 x Chorus:]Finally home.
I'm finally home,
I'm home.
