Lunar Eclipse

Bridezilla

I don't ever even think of you,
but it's nice to be loved by you and though it's so easy to figure it'll end someday soon without a note or word I wannaï»¿ be seen or heard.
I really am tired of all learned.
We could wrote pair you and I earned and another diss to be served.
I really am tired of who speaks with an foreign talk.
Which earned a stand of just the glow.

Can't of been the throw you on dress,
march to the kitchen window. Melody as the bees,
they stung took all they could from the flowers.

I don't ever even think of you.
I wanna be loved by you.
Keep those thoughts of me and your worth.
Like you lovin' couldn't be to it;
you were his strosh through youth when nobody's pourin' you.

Tower can thee I stand through when he thrive what they knew,
are coming to haunt you in your dreams.

Tower can the mind sometimes,
oh though you smile at me,
I feel fully out of the three, glows.
