Down By Law

Now this life is a wonderful thing
See the world go a million miles
Faces come and go like the tide
On a summer day or a lonely nightBut everyone is telling you
 What to do with your life
 Just escape and breathe free
Daydream of a girl I used to knowSo many memories have slipped away
 Thinking a million thoughts an hour
Waiting for the waves to take me awayThey say somewhere is a path
 That's marked out just for you
Well I hope someday our paths will cross
When I lie awake at night I still see only you
