Ephemeral

Pelican

A distant vision
In the closest of moments
To my being
Standing free of design
An entity of my own
and with eyes opening
It shatters within a breath but already the thought lost my mind
In question
beyond reasonSay goodbye to the world as we knew it
To the eyes that couldn't see
Now I'm dying and trying to find out
What this life could mean
So say goodbye to the world as we knew itThe incidental fortunes
That are our moments
To feel and see
Create and dream
It is our duty to live while we canA distant vision
In the closest of moments
To my being
Standing free of design
An entity of my own
and with eyes openingSay goodbye to the world as we knew it
To the eyes that couldn't see
Now I'm dying and trying to find out
What this life could mean
So say goodbye to the world as we knew itYEAH!
