

Paint on Your Wings

Abra Moore

Paint on your wings, its time to fly
Red, gold and green, daddy, the color you like
Waiting for you, waiting for you to let it all go, to give up this fight
Youre finally gonna know, whats on the other side And the day turns into night
As the light falls from your eyes
Taking away the cup thats keeping you alive
Done everything we could, its time to stop trying Finally free, paint on your wings, its time to fly
Red, gold and green, daddy, the color you like
Waiting for you, waiting for you to let it all go, to give up the fight
Youre finally gonna know, whats on the other side
