

Drown

The Everyday Losers

Drown
water pours in filling up my lungs I'm slowly gasping hoping for the last one keep me alive to torture me for life wishful thinking, suffocation would be nice you wanna watch me drown as I'm coming undone you let me drown and you've already won I can feel you breathe but I can feel no heart it is already gone, you have to watch me drown you let me breathe enough to keep me here for pain destruct for pleasure and the screams that I can't make I shouldâ€™ve known I would get me in the end I never thought I could put myself through this
